

Consumer Voice Showcase

Festival of Now 2018

Come along and witness the graduating presentations of new Consumer Voice members Joanne, Jill and Karen as they share their lived experience stories of recovery from gambling harm.

About the Consumer Voice Program

For over a decade, the Consumer Voice Program at Relationships Australia SA has not only raised community awareness about gambling harm but has also been an exceptional lived experience model that has had therapeutic and skill development benefits.

Consumer Voice speakers are trained and supported to develop and share their personal journey into and out of gambling harm so they can raise the awareness of this issue with others in the community.

Be inspired, listen and reflect on the intersection between gambling harm and the unpredictable unfolding events of life.
